New Ford Plant at "Heights" Now Taking Job Applications

Temporary executive offices and warehouse space for Ford Motor multi-million dollar Chicago Stamping Plant have been established in Chicago Heights. It has been announced by John B. Kendall, plant manager.

The executive offices are located at 23rd and Euclid and plant equipment is temporarily being stored in the former American Locomotive foundry building at 26th and Euclid. A temporary industrial relations headquarters has also been set up at 1501 Cottage Grove, just opposite the plant site.

In making the announcement, Kendall said applications are being accepted for salaried personnel and skilled trades workers. Applicants interested in salaried positions are being interviewed at the executive offices.

Skilled trades workers—die makers, die setters, electricians, machine repairmen, crane operators, lift and tow truck operators, etc.—are receiving applications and interviews at 1501 Cottage Grove. Weekly office hours are from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. and Saturday from 8:30 a. m. to 12:30 p. m.

According to Kendall, actual hiring of hourly workers will not begin until probably next month, and then only skilled maintenance workers will be employed.

The huge, modern plant is expected to begin regular stamping operations by September of this year. Full operations will be achieved by August, 1957.

When completed, the plant will employ approximately 3,500 salaried employees and 3,500 hourly employees, including 1,100 skilled tool and die and maintenance workers. The plant will bring an estimated annual payroll of $20-million to the Chicago Heights area.

Retail Sales in Will County
Show Big Gains

Retail sales in 1954 of 1,454 stores in Will county totaled $162,680,000, according to preliminary 1954 census of business figures announced by the Bureau of Census, Department of Commerce. This was an increase of 44.4 percent over sales in 1948 of 1,500 stores at $112,695,000. Stores with payroll in 1954 numbered 990, had 6,371 paid employees in November 1954, reported payroll of $17,690,000, and accounted for sales of $151,332,000. Proprietors of unincorporated business number 1,398.

A breakdown of the report shows that the people of Will county spent almost $41-million on food, as was to be expected, and next to food the automobile and gasoline dealers drained off the largest number of dollars. Sixty-three automobile dealers had sales that ran to almost $2-million while the gasoline service stations accounted for $13,283,000.

Sales for the 34 establishments listed as merchandise ran to $18,512,000. Apparel and accessory stores, 83 in number, had sales of $8,631,000. Eating and drinking places, 386, had sales totaling $14,512,000.

Thus after filling their stomachs, covering their backs, and providing themselves with transportation, the people in Will county spent $15,137,000 with 94 establishments for such things as lumber, building material, hardware and farm equipment: $13,066,000 in 154 other retail stores; $6,995,000 with 67 stores selling furniture, home furnishings or appliances; $5,487,000 with 43 drug stores and $2,178 with 45 non-store retailers.

"Other retail stores" include those dealing with jewelry, liquor, to be consumed off the premises, gifts, music, pets, toys, garden supplies, books, cameras and photographic supplies, florists, religious goods, hobbies and tombstones.

Non-store retailers are those who make the sale at the customer's home, at another business establishment, or by mail.

There will be 22 major press lines and 21 intermediate lines for a total of 370 presses ranging from 27 to 450 tons in weight. The plant's die room alone will have 30 pieces of equipment, including machine tools such as duplicator bar mills, rail mills and other room equipment to build dies ranging from 1 to 90 tons.

In addition to its modern mechanical and technical properties, the plant will have a complete fire department, sprinkler system and safety program, including an employee fire brigade and company-provided safety equipment.

Three parking areas will accommodate approximately 2,300 automobiles. A modern industrial hospital will be staffed by a doctor and several nurses. Employees will also have a modern cafeteria plus locker and wash rooms located on a comfortable mezzanine.

The plant is now under construction at the junction of U. S. Route 30 and Cottage Grove in Chicago Heights. It will be operated by Ford's Metal Stamping Division and is part of a post-war, company-wide three and three-quarter billion dollar expansion program.

The Gust K. Newberg Construction Company of Chicago is the construction contractor.

The water is stored in the ball at the top and the base of the pedestal will serve as a pump house and a shop for the water department.

Norton Twins are Fined After Traffic Arrest

Arthur and Dennis Norton, 23-year-old twin brothers who reside at New Lenox were each fined on charges of disorderly conduct Monday when they were brought before Police Magistrate Martin Jackson in Joliet after having spent the weekend in jail.

Arthur Norton was fined $200 and costs while the fine and costs against Dennis amounted to $25. The case of 17 year boy who was in the car with them when the Nortons were arrested by Joliet police Saturday was continued to March 1. This youth, Arthur Biddle, of 506 Peale street, Joliet, had been drinking, according to the police report, and his mother is said to be planning to file a complaint against a Rockdale saloonkeeper where Robert is alleged to have obtained intoxicants.

Beer and liquor was found in the Norton car and a drunkometer test taken by Arthur Norton the driver at the Joliet police station showed a reading of .17 per cent blood alcohol content, police stated. The National Safety Council notes that a person with .15 or more per cent blood alcohol content is considered to be in no condition to operate an automobile.

According to the police report Norton drove thru a red light at the intersection of Chicago and Jefferson streets, narrowly missing a woman pedestrian. The car went on south to Washington and turned east. Police headed the vehicle off at Scott and Jefferson streets.

The police reported the car was without license plates, no brakes, no muffler and the accelerator pedal was stuck.

The Norton twins have traffic arrest records dating back to 1949 and have been involved in a number of accidents, reports show.

Because no one was injured Saturday and no property damage reported Chief Investigator Nicholas Forange of the state's attorney's office recommended a disorderly conduct charge be placed against Arthur Norton instead of a drunken driving charge. Magistrate Jackson said that was done.

Loss of Dogs Gives Owners Lost Feeling

Two dogs are reported lost, one a Border collie owned by Mr. and Mrs. John Pusch of New Lenox, and the other a black and tan female owned by the Albert Hausers of Lincoln Estates. Not only are the dogs lost but the owners feel lost without them.

In the case of the Border collie Mr. Pusch is unable to work because of ill health and is home all day alone, except for the dog as Mrs. Pusch is employed in Joliet. The dog, which is described as having a bobbed tail, a black coat and a white throat. He has been missing since Monday. The owners would appreciate it if the finders or persons who may have seen the dog would call them at New Lenox 6812.

The Hauser dog, which rejoices in the name of Penny, has been gone about two weeks. She is fat and of a friendly disposition and the Hausers believe she may be tied or shut up. Penny is 12 years old and has been a member of the Hauser household for 10 years. She is a companion of Bezy Hauser, the 12 year old son of the house. Not only do the Hausers miss Penny but Penny has an offspring of her own, now about five years old, who is grieving to the point where he won't eat and goes about whining and with a lost look. If anyone gave Penny shelter the Hausers hope they will call them at Frankfort 3238.

Milk Prices to Farmers Below
December Level

Prices were announced by the Milk Market Administrator for milk delivered to the Chicago market during January.

A blend price of $3.60 a hundredweight will be paid for milk testing 3.5 per cent butter fat and delivered to the 70 mile zone.

This price is 9 cents below the December 1955 price but 13 cents above the price for January of last year.

While the farm price returned about 8 cents a quart to the dairy farmer, milk companies paid a higher price of around 8.5 cents a quart for the milk they used in bottling.

The farm price is continuing the yearly cycle of milk prices from a high in October and November to a low in May, said Harry Edwards, head of the marketing department for Pure Milk Association.

Since May 1955 the milk prices have been keeping substantially higher than the previous year. Whether they continue to be higher will depend a great deal on the amount of milk that is produced during the coming months, Edwards said.

He indicated that there was 4 percent more milk produced in January 1956 than January 1955. If production should continue to increase it would have a depressing effect on the price, Edwards said.

The dancers were, Larry Koerner, Karen Olson, Dean Minuth, Sandy Pierson, Lana Beth Carlson, Dottie Gardner, Clara Chapman, Kathy Johnson, Tom and Margie Johnson, Darlene Minuth, Judy Dunn, Faye Anderson, Claudia Peterson, Diane McCleary, Jane Berlin, David and Kathy Griffin, Diane Steinmetz, Todd Minuth, Sandy Harwood, Janet Wise, Mrs. Clarence Harwood and Mrs. Minuth. They were given a loud applause by their audience.

Mrs. Minuth is planning to present her dance and dramatic students in and afternoon and evening show in the Haven school auditorium in New Lenox on April 29.

The Mills will speak at the regular church service Sunday at 10:45 A.M. as well as Saturday evening at 7:30 and Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The Frankfort village board has made arrangements with the Warren Chemical Co., Inc., of Chicago Heights, to test its water treatment method for another 30 days before making a final decision of whether to make it a part of the village system.

The board asked for an expression of opinion from the public a couple of weeks ago but thus far only six persons have responded. They are said to have found the water improved. There are approximately 250 water connections in Frankfort.

Mayor George Sangmeister said yesterday that the village trustees would make their own study to determine the efficiency of the treatment that is designed to inhibit solids such as lime and iron, thus softening and clearing the water.

At the meeting of the village board last Monday it was decided to give the method further trial.

It was also decided at Monday's meeting to hire R. R. Robinson, a retired Joliet Junior college teacher to zone the village into residential, commercial and industrial areas.

In this connection the board also is planning to revise the building code to insure better standard homes.

At the previous board meeting approval had been given to plans of Harland Eisenbrandt for subdividing approximately five acres, from the west side of White st., west to Smith st. This is the former Staff property and is located at the north end of the village. It was said that plans call for erection of 16 homes.

There was some talk concerning the possibility of another subdivision for homesites and this brought up the question of sewage disposal.

Village Attorney A. H. Krusemark, Jr., was authorized to write the state health department and arrange for an engineer to come to Frankfort and determine what is needed to meet the sewage problem.

All communities that are experiencing growth are troubled with the same problem, what to do about sewage. Many have outgrown septic tank systems and are now facing the necessity of installing regular sewer systems.

Mayor Sangmeister suggested to the board that it also give consideration to the setting up of a planning commission for the village.

Those assisting in the dramatic parts were Mrs. Mary Greenman and Harry Johnson.

The dancers were, Larry Koerner, Karen Olson, Dean Minuth, Sandy Pierson, Lana Beth Carlson, Dottie Gardner, Clara Chapman, Kathy Johnson, Tom and Margie Johnson, Darlene Minuth, Judy Dunn, Faye Anderson, Claudia Peterson, Diane McCleary, Jane Berlin, David and Kathy Griffin, Diane Steinmetz, Todd Minuth, Sandy Harwood, Janet Wise, Mrs. Clarence Harwood and Mrs. Minuth. They were given a loud applause by their audience.

Mrs. Minuth is planning to present her dance and dramatic students in and afternoon and evening show in the Haven school auditorium in New Lenox on April 29.

Many Factors Contribute to Child Injuries

The child who is unhappy or lacks self-confidence may express his unhappiness in the form of hurts or injuries to himself, according to an Urbana pediatrician, writing in the current Illinois Medical Journal.

"Any child receiving more than his share of mishaps should be considered from the standpoint of an emotional disturbance," said Dr. James B. Gillespie, who is associated with the Carle Clinic and Carle Memorial hospital, Urbana.

"Some parents may need assistance in recognizing and properly caring for the emotional problems of their child. This is the occasional accidental child in whom no obvious physical or emotional cause can be found for his frequent injuries. It is likely that some of these children suffer from subclinical physical or emotional defects."

He also pointed out that some children are more susceptible to accidents than others and that these may be caused by defective hearing, impaired vision or poor muscle co-ordination. "A child suspected of having one or more of these defects should be examined by a physician and appropriate treatment should be provided. When corrective therapy is not possible, the child must be adequately protected from injuries, and taught principles of safety as related to his defect. This is good evidence for the value of vision and hearing screening tests in the school health program."

Accidents are the leading cause of death in the 1 to 14 age groups, exceeding in frequency the next most frequent causes combined. Each year in the United States there are an estimated 2,000,000 child accidents requiring medical attention. Of these, more than 12,000 result in deaths and between 40,000 and 50,000 in injuries of a permanent nature.

To reduce this toll, Dr. Gillespie said, education in accident prevention should start with the parents as soon as the child can crawl.

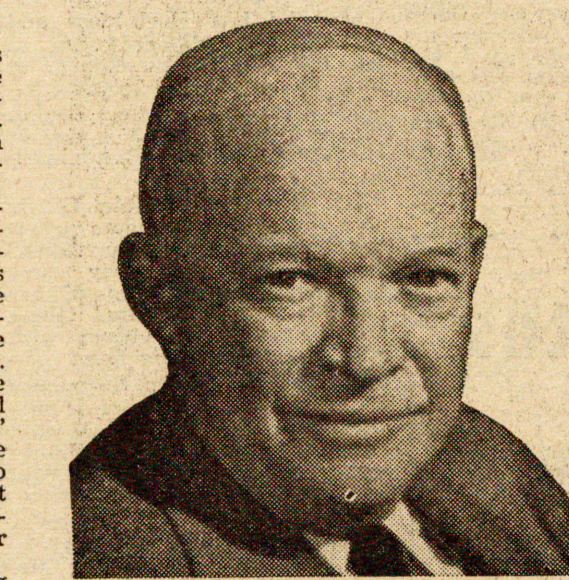

"It is primarily the responsibility of parents and adult members of any household to arrange the home and premises "Moreover, it is essential that so they are made safe, he said: instruction and guidance be given by senior members to the juniors early in life. Since the first five years of the child's life are spent almost entirely at home, a basic groundwork in accident prevention will not be established unless safe practices in every day living are observed at home. The threats to a child's safety will vary with age and sex, the economic level of the family, the nature of his environs, the type of housing, the season of the year and with the common good sense of his parents, Dr. Gillespie said.

HELP EISENHOWER pass the new farm program

"Although agriculture is our basic industry, farm families find their prices and incomes depressed amid the nation's greatest prosperity. "... An oversupply of commodities drives down prices as mounting costs force us from below, generating a severe price-cost squeeze. "... Remedies are needed now, and it is up to the administration and the Congress to provide them swiftly. As we seek to go forward, we must not go back to old programs that have failed utterly to protect farm families. "... I recommend, therefore, the following nine-point program. I urge the Congress to pass this program with maximum speed, for delay can only aggravate and multiply the difficulties already sorely harassing millions of our rural people."

Dwight D. Eisenhower
From the President's special farm message to Congress

The Eisenhower-Republican 9-Point Farm Program

1. A VOLUNTARY, 2-POINT SOIL BANK to take 40 to 45 million acres out of production of your problem crops, get rid of the surplus, raise prices.
An Acreage Reserve which uses the surplus to reduce the surplus.
A Conservation Reserve to prevent future surpluses and to build back soil for future needs.
2. LAWS TO PERMIT FASTER SURPLUS DISPOSAL especially in foreign markets. Selling, not storage, is the answer.
3. STRENGTHEN COMMODITY PROGRAMS on wheat, corn, dairy products, soybeans, cotton and rice. Ease production controls wherever possible.
4. PROTECT FAMILY-TYPE FARMS by limiting the size of price support loans made to large corporate-type farms.
5. EXPAND RURAL DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM to help low-income farm families live better, earn more.
6. PUSH FORWARD THE GREAT PLAINS PROGRAM to stabilize income in drought-stricken areas, and to prevent another dust bowl.
7. INCREASE FARM RESEARCH APPROPRIATION to find new uses and new markets for farm crops, lower production costs and increase farm profits.
8. ASSURE ADEQUATE CREDIT TO FARMERS to meet capital needs of present farmers, help young farmers get started, tide farmers over emergencies.
9. REFUND GASOLINE TAX TO FARMERS on motor fuel used in farming operations.

Answers to some of your questions

Q: Why will it work?

A: Because this is a program for farmers by farmers. We asked for, and got, sound advice from hundreds of farm leaders and thousands of farmers everywhere. This program gets at the root of the problem on a practical, non-political basis. It contains no double-talk or bureaucratic theories. It is the most business-like, down-to-earth approach to the business of farming and marketing of farm products this country has ever had.

Q: Why is it a more practical program than others that have been offered?

A: Because it is especially tailored to today's peace-time conditions. It hits right at the problem of price-depressing surpluses built up because of wartime policies too long continued. These surpluses hang over your farm like a hidden mortgage.

Q: Will all farmers benefit?

A: This program will directly benefit all farmers everywhere: producers of food grains, feed grains, oilseed and fiber crops, dairymen and livestock producers. It recognizes the special problems of regional groups and producers of certain crops.

Q: Will this program help strengthen farm prices?

A: Yes. The present mountain of surplus, and the threat of future surplus, now holds down prices. Every farmer realizes that "a government warehouse is not a market." As surpluses are used up prices will inevitably rise. (Marketing people have estimated that net farm income would have been $2 billion higher in 1955 if it were not for the surpluses.)

Q: How much will it help?

A: Hundreds of millions of dollars in payments to farmers can be made this year under the Soil Bank plan alone if passage is not delayed. This is in addition to its effect in strengthening farm prices. Farmers would also get $60,000,000 a year tax refund on gasoline used in their farming operations.

Q: How big is the surplus?

A: The government now holds an $8-billion stock of farm products. We can't shut our eyes to it, throw it into the ocean or plow it under. It costs about a million dollars a day for storage and carrying charges alone.

Q: Why do surpluses drive down livestock prices as well as grain prices?

A: Continued overproduction of grains not only clogs the grain markets but forces continued expansion in an already over-expanded livestock production. Livestock prices as well as grain prices would be higher today if it were not for the surplus.

Q: Why is the new Soil Bank Plan the most sensible approach to the surplus problem?

A: It will get rid of the surplus and prevent future surplus from piling up. It will stop the shift of another farmer's problem crops to your problem crops.

Q: How does the Soil Bank "Acreage Reserve" use the surplus to reduce the surplus?

A: In exchange for placing a portion of their allotted crop acres in the Soil Bank (removing them from production entirely for an agreed period), farmers will receive certificates. These certificates will be good for cash at the bank or for commodities drawn from surplus government stocks. In this way farmers will be using up the surplus instead of adding to it. This part of the program applies to corn, wheat, cotton and rice.

Q: How will the Soil Bank "Conservation Reserve" keep future surpluses from building up?

A: It will take 25 million acres out of all crop and livestock production for several years. This land will be put into grass, trees or water storage. It is voluntary and provides generous incentives for wide-spread participation. It, too, will help livestock producers as well as grain producers since it will reduce the surplus of feed grains that put more and more people into the livestock business.

Q: Are these programs entirely voluntary?

A: Yes. President Eisenhower and the Republican Party believe it is a basic right of every farmer to be free to plan his own farm program and make the best use of his land that he knows how. They also believe that farmers should have the chance to build up their soil without loss of income. The well-being of all Americans, as well as the future prosperity of farmers themselves, depends on maintaining productivity of our soil resources. Farmers who participate will no longer feel that they are forced to farm every acre to the limit, producing crops that aren't needed, in order to keep their income up.

Q: How do I benefit if I put some of my acres in the Soil Bank?

A: You get an opportunity to restore the fertility of your soil and at the same time you are assured of an income from the land you retire. As surpluses are reduced, prices will increase on crops you do produce.

Q: Why will Soil Bank participation help insure my income?

A: It will strengthen your cash position by giving you a guarantee—in effect, income insurance. The more you take out of production will provide income regardless of drought, flood or other disaster.

Q: How will the Soil Bank help livestock producers?

A: With less feed grains being produced, fewer farmers will feel that they have to raise more livestock to "piece out" their income due to surplus-depressed prices of grain. Participants in the Soil Bank plan will sign an agreement not to graze their diverted acres.

Q: When does it start?

A: Just as soon as the necessary legislation can be enacted. The President has urged all possible speed so farmers can plan their plantings and benefit fully during the present crop year. Your Republican members of Congress are behind the President. They believe the more you know about the program, the more you can help. You can help by writing members of Congress urging immediate action.

Scout Trail

Tinley Girl Scouts

Members of Girl Scout Intermediate troop 334 planned their Valentine party which was held last Monday afternoon around the theme of music. A dance contest was held with the waltz prize of Girl Scout. Photograph books going to Audrey Nielsen and Eileen Chalden and the winning Jitterbug couple, Wanda Funk and Peggy Owens won Girl Scout stationery. The dance committee Kay Swisher, Bette Beckstein and Sharon Jochum were judges.

The group enjoyed general participation games and listening to recorded music.

Leaders of the troop, Ethel Zobac and Blanche Yepsen baked and decorated the valentine cakes which were delicious. Mrs.
Paul Nielsen and Mrs. Russell Draves provided the sandwiches, with the cakes, chips and candy coming from troop funds.

A fly-up ceremony will be

Hoover Report

Ask the next 10 taxpayers you meet whether they favor more efficient and economical government and you'll get 10 enthusiastically affirmative answers. But ask for specific suggestions as to where, how, and to what extent changes should be made, and you'll get all kinds of conflicting ideas. When it comes to government economy, as in so many other matters affecting human beings, much depends on whose ox is being gored.

This truism helps to explain why reforms proposed by the second Hoover Commission—which it is estimated, would reduce federal spending by $5,000,000, 000 to $8,000,000,000 a year if adopted in toto—are finding the going hard. Various of the proposals, of course, are of a routine and essentially non-controversial nature, and these are gradually being adopted. But the big, basic recommendations, concerning the defense and state departments, the Veterans Administration, government lending activities, water and power policy, and so on, are in a very different category.

On top of that, some serious misunderstandings of the philosophy which underlies the recommendations have gained wide currency. The reports run to thousands of printed pages. Few people have read them. So there has been plenty of room for misconceptions.

John Chamberlain, in a series of articles appearing in The Wall Street Journal, has attempted to clear the air and winnow fact from prejudice.
The Commission, he observes, "has been accused of trying to turn the clock back past Cool-idge's time to McKinley's." It is said that it wants to cut government spending arbitrarily, no matter who gets hurt. As a matter of fact, Mr. Chamberlain points out, "nowhere has the Commission attacked 'spending' as such." It is not against the government's social service and general welfare activities. In a number of cases the Commission advocates very substantial increases in government spending. Fields of which this is true include the civil service, basic research in the Department of Defense, and basic medical research.

The Commission did recommend cuts, some heavy, where, in its opinion, the cost is too high for the services rendered where something can be done better for less money, where there is needless duplication of efforts, or where private enterprise can fill the requirement efficiently and economically. It found, to take random examples, that there are 26 different federal departments and agencies mixing in health activities; that simplification n paper work can save $288,000,000 a year; that there is widespread unjustified competition with the banks and other private lending agencies; that the Treasury could save $151,000,000 a year by better traffic management; that improved methods of disposing of surplus property would net the government billions over a period of years, and that modernized budget and accounting practices would save huge sums.

The Commission, in other words, did not set its face against change, nor against the growth of government. What it did is summed up by Mr. Chamberlain in these words: "In running its survey lines thru the forest of Big Government, the Commission turned up vast areas where dead wood abounds and saplings are starved for sunlight.
But sensible conservation practices have cleaned up many a forest, ad could be applied to this one."

You can make a novel, and inexpensive lampshade in just one afternoon—All you'll need is the frame from an old shade and some yarn. Wind the yarn vertically, from top to bottom of the frame, tying at frequent intervals, until you've covered the entire frame—and your shade is finished.

Rich Wins Southwest Suburban Cage Title

Champs Height, Reserve Strength Too Much; Bremen Loses 75-56

The powerful Rich quintet ground out a convincing 75 to 56 victory over Bremen varsity last Friday night to win the Southwest conference championship.

The first quarter ended with Bremen on the short end of a 20 to 18 score. Rich's superior height and reserve strength began to exert itself in the second quarter and at intermission they were leading 42 to 31. Bremen played well during the remainder of the game, but could not match the scoring attack of their opponents who were led by Rose and Hawkins, who accounted for 19 and 18 points respectively.

Bill Lindsay's 23 points and all-around ability extended the winners throughout the game. The frosh-soph curtain raiser was won by Rich by the score of 58 to 49. The teams traded baskets until the last few minutes before the winner was decided.

Rich led at half-time 30 to 25. In the second half, successive baskets by DuBois and Hug, tied the score at 30 all.

The Rich five at this point went into a few point lead which they held until the end of the game.

The high scorers were Meents of Bremen with 16 points, while North and Meredith of Rich each garnered 18.

Rich plays in the Kankakee regional tourney next Monday night, Feb. 27.

Bremen's next game will be at Blue Island Saturday night, Feb. 25. On Monday, Feb. 27, they will play in the Joliet regional tournament against the strong Joliet Catholic team.

Sandburg Closes Cage Season With Twin Win

The basketball squad of Carl Sandburg high school closed a highly successful regular season schedule over the past week-end as they blasted two conference foes, Oak Lawn on Friday night by 21 points, 73 to 54 and Evergreen Park on Saturday night by a score of 80 to 49. In both games reserves played a good portion of the game or the score could have been much larger.

With the twin wins, Sandburg closed the season with 10 conference victories against two losses, both to the champion Rich Rockets. In addition to the two losses to Rich Sandburg was routed out by Blue Island, Plainfield, and Peotone, and was roundly trounced by Marmion of Aurora. The wins over the week-end enabled Sandburg to end the regular season with 16 wins and 6 lost record as they enter district competition.

Coach John Jorstead and his Sandburg eagles deserve the commendation they have received for their record, second in the conference, second in the Cretaceous holiday tournament and a very fine showing in the season. Coach Bill Adams, freshmen-sophomore equid give indications of what is ahead for Sandburg basketball as they won over both Oak Lawn and Evergreen Park to end their season with a mark of 19 wins and 3 losses. The three losses were administered by Blue Island, Marmion and Rich. Sandburg's frosh-soph squad is assured of at least a share of the conference championship as they have finished their season with a record of 11 wins and only 1 loss.

Varsity Quint of Lincoln-Way Loses to Reavis and Plainfield

By Denny Wheeler

The Knights of Lincoln-Way did not enjoy a very substantial week in basketball last week as they dropped varsity tilts to Reavis and Plainfield. However, the Junior Varsity squad managed to baffle out a one point decision over the Reavis JV's.

In the first encounter of last Tuesday the Knights were drubbed by Dick Peldzus and Co. of Reavis. Young Richard churned the strings with a phenomenal 43 points as Reavis won 81-48. Lincoln-Way was never in the game as Peldzus ran up 25 points in the first half. Paul Padzuks was high man for Lincoln-Way with 12 markers.

On Friday evening the L-W Knights traveled to Plainfield and although they played a fairly good showing, the powerful Wildcats gained the victory by a 77-55 score. The Knights put up a very good fight thruout the first quarter and were behind only 17-12. However this prosperity did not last long and the Wildcats moved to a 35-22 halftime bulge. Harvey Johnson had a field day as he dropped in 30 markers. Red Wade was tops for Lincoln-Way with 22 points.

On Saturday morning the Knights' junior varsity squad took a thrilling one-point contest 48-47.

Lincoln-Way looked like the State Champions as they disgraced Reavis in the first half 29-11. However, the determined Rams did not play dead and they gradually closed the margin and caught the Knight at 39 all. It was then a case of spine-tingling excitement as the teams jockeyed for a lead.

With 12 seconds remaining, L-W held a slim 48-47 lead when a jump ball was called. The Knights controlled the tipoff and the ball for the rest of the game to ice their second win against no defeats in junior varsity competition.

Red Wade topped all scorers with a 22 point production. The frosh-soph squad lost on another heartbreaking one-pointer to Reavis 28-27. It was a close match all the way. Unfortunately, due to clock failures the time remaining in the game was an unknown factor thruout the game.

The Little Knights closed the season losing to Plainfield 52-44. Dave Zechlin hit for 18 to lead all scorers. Henry Jensen was next with 12 markers. The Little Knights ended the season with 5 wins and 15 losses, a big improvement over last year's 1 won, 18 lost record.

Mokena to Wind Up Basketball Season Tomorrow

Ice and snow combined to make traveling so hazardous last Friday night that the basketball games between Mokena and Laraway schools in the Des Plaines Valley conference were postponed. They will be played tomorrow night in the Mokena gym, the final ones of the season in league play.

The first game is scheduled for 7:30, a lightweight encounter. The lightweight championship was won this year by Mokena, the first time a title has come to the school in 15 years.

Outcome of the heavy weight game tomorrow night means considerable to Mokena as a win means that the Meteors will wind up in second place in the conference standings. Coach Jim Wrath explained, while defeat would drop them back into 3rd place.

Manhattan won the conference championship in the heavy-weight division.

Knights to Play Faculty Five in Benefit Game

Lincoln-Way's varsity basketball team has other business on hand these days in addition to tournament play.

It has a big game coming up March 5 when it meets the faculty in a benefit performance, so to speak. Proceeds from this game will be turned over to the junior class and the juniors will use the money in meeting the costs of the junior-senior prom.

Spectators will not only be aiding a worthwhile cause, it should see a good game.

While Lincoln-Way has lost a lot of games this year the team has also been showing improvement and has been getting better all the time. And the faculty team is not exactly a pushover. The teachers have not too much weight in the form of years yet in pretty fair fashion.

Tickets may be had at the school or from members of the junior class.

St. Jude's Hi-Teens Give Valentine Hop

Sixty teen-agers attended the Valentine dance in St. Jude's hall, New Lenox, when the Hi-Teens of the church entertained the young people of St. Anthony's, Joliet and St. Mary's Mokena. Decorations and refreshments were in the Valentine motif.

A group of young musicians known as the "Steam Boat 6" performed in Dixieland style with both music and songs in their initial public appearance. They were: Pat Kelly, Dennis Griffin, Bryan Henneberry, Dave Videdich, Don Gudac, and Wesley Ridgeway. Also on the program was Joyce Klinger of Mokena entertained the group with a dance.

The group picked a Valentine queen and king who were Diane Sorensen, Mokena and LeRoy Lercon, New Lenox. They also chose Harold Toepfer, Peotone, prince and Rosemary Munch, Mokena as princess.

This evening, Feb. 23 the Hi-Teens will meet for their bi-monthly meeting in the New Lenox church.

Tinley Grade Cage Team Looks Good But Needs Support

By John McDaniel

The Tinley Park grade school basketball teams have been playing good ball this season and merits better support than it has been getting. Perhaps one should say, had been getting prior to the Flossmoor game. The stands in the Tinley gym were packed for that occasion and while Tinley lost both contests, the lightweights, 34 to 22, and the heavies, 26 to 17, they looked good.

More school support for the teams would be a help, according to Coach William Kostecki.

Marmion Too Tall Take Eagles 70-46

The Eagles of Carl Sandburg have been doing well this season but in its tangle with the Marmion five of Aurora recently the superior height of the Aurorans was too much and the Eagles were swamped 70 to 40.

Marmion got off to a wild start, leading 21 to 5 at the end of the first quarter and 38 to 19 at the half. When the third period had ended Marmion was on top 55 to 33.

Manhattan Issues Invitations to Grade Cage Tourney

Mokena, Frankfort and New Lenox grade school basketball teams have been invited to a tournament to be played at Manhattan March 1 and 2. There will be but four teams, the other being the host, Manhattan.

Another tournament is to be held the following week, March 8-10 at New Lenox in Haven school gym.

Stu Holcomb to Speak at Lincoln-Way High Athletic Dinner Mar. 7

Stuart K. Holcomb, new athletic director at Northwestern is to be the main speaker at the annual Lincoln-Way high athletic dinner to be given the night of March 7 in the school gym.

The dinner is sponsored by the five Lions clubs in the Lincoln-Way district. Mokena, Frankfort, Lincolnwood, New Lenox and Manhattan, and all of the school's athletes will be guests of honor.

The banquet is open to all fathers and other men in the district who are interested and tickets may be obtained from members of the Lions clubs or any of the boys on the various athletic teams at the school.

The speaker is a prominent figure in the sports world. Stu Holcomb is a name to conjure with in athletics. He served as Purdue head football coach for the past nine years during which his teams were famed for producing stunning upsets, notably a 28-14 win over Notre Dame in 1950 that broke a 39-game winning streak for the Irish.

In 1953, Holcomb's eleven handed Michigan State Big Ten and Rose Bowl champions the only defeat suffered that season, 6 to 0. In 1954 the Boilermakers broke a 13-game victory march for Notre Dame with a 27-14 triumph.

Under Holcomb's direction Purdue won the Big Ten title in 1952 after having been runner up in 1951. He also served as head coach of the North team for the annual Blue and Gray Shrine game and co-coach of the East team in the 1955 East-West Shrine game.

Holcomb is a native of Lincoln, Neb., and attended high school at Erie, Pa. where he was an all-around athlete winning letters in four sports and captaining the football team. He went to college at Ohio State where he won all-conference honors as a halfback and fullback and in 1931 he was captain of the team. He also lettered in basketball.

Graduated in 1932 he went to Findlay (Ohio) college as athletic director and coach of all sports. In four years his football teams won two Northwest-Ohio conference titles. From Findlay he went to another Ohio college, Muskingum as athletic director and football coach. His teams stayed in the first division and the 1939 squad took the Ohio conference championship. In 1941 as football coach at Washington and Jefferson his team won the district championship. The following year Holcomb went to Miami (Ohio) university and his football team won the state title in 1943.

Holcomb entered military service in 1944 and for the next three years served as assistant football coach at West Point. When discharged in 1947, he went to Purdue and now Northwestern is hopeful that he can work some of the Holcomb magic at that institution.

Lincoln-Way, Lemont Eagles See Action in Tournament Tonight

The 1955-56 high school basketball season in Illinois is nearing its climax which comes next month when state championship team will emerge from the annual tournament at Champaign-Urbana. Right now the district tourneys are underway and the winners will go on next week to the regionals and then the sectionals. The teams that win sectional titles will then go to Champaign-Urbana.

Sandburg high school is host to the district tourney in this area. Play began there last night with Evergreen Park pitted against Morgan Park Military academy.

Tonight Sandburg, which as the host and No. 1 team of the meet, drew a bye in the first round, meets the Wednesday night winner in the first game at 7:30 o'clock.

Lincoln-Way and Lemont will meet in the second game tonight, at approximately 8:30.

Tickets for tonight's games between Lincoln-Way and Lemont may be obtained at Lincoln-Way school. A block of reserved seats has been set aside for Lincoln-Way rooters and adults from the L-W area can get them there today. Tickets may be obtained at Sandburg from 7:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and of course at the boxoffice at game time.

The final game will be played Friday night at 8 o'clock and the winner will go to the regional tournament at Riverside-Brookfield next week.

Bremen State took two from Plattis Decorators even though Plattis rolled a 210-551.

The best the Laundromat could do against Vogt's was tie them one game, giving Vogt's 2 1/2 games more to their credit. Bill Swisher finally found the groove and rolled 502.

Seil Magazines
By Fran Swisher
Grade 8

The Tinley Park school's annual Magazine Drive began Feb. 2 and ended Feb. 20. The drive, sponsored by the student council, was open to all pupils from fifth thru the eighth graders.

A goal of $3000 was set and the proceeds are planned to purchase safety patrol awards, sports awards, and a projection screen. Last year's goal of $2500 was met and exceeded by the students. An opaque projector was purchased by the student council for the school.

Eighth Grade News

The 8th grade rooms 401 and 300, of the Tinley Park school just completed their formal study of the Constitution of Illinois. This test is one of five required by law before the students enter high school. The other four are: The Declaration of Independence, The Constitution of the United States, The Flag, voting. These tests are administered by Mrs. Helen Sandidge history, geography and civics teacher.

Mrs. Marion Triem is conducting a study of federal income tax law in her arithmetic class for eighth graders.

In Mrs. Mariam Zahler's art class, the eighth grade is learning the structure and drawing of the features of the face. Various compositions were done in chalk and charcoal, including a self-portrait in colored chalk. A final lesson will be the modeling of a figure in clay.

Sandburg, L-W Matmen Qualify for State Meet

Three schools in the Southwest Suburban conference will be represented in the state wrestling meet to be held tomorrow and Saturday at Proviso high, Maywood.

Lincoln-Way and Sandburg will each send a champion and 32 Rich will be represented by a second place winner. First and second place sectional winners will go to the state meet.

Because the bulk of the wrestlers appear to stem from the northern counties, the state meet is being held in the Chicago area this year instead of at Champaign-Urbana.

Elwood Zitter of Lincoln-Way won the sectional championship in the 95-pound class with wins over Terry of Rich, Masier, of Thornton, Spann of Bloom and Beales of Streator, in the meet held at Bremen high school last Friday and Saturday.

Warren Semetis, of Sandburg, was crowned champion in the 120-pound class. To win the sectional title, Semetis defeated Fennelly of Thornton, Baker of Streator, Ruiter of Bremen and Reeves of Bloom.

Ronald Mulligan of Rich finished second in the 103-pound class.

Sandburg had Steve Johandes finish third and Frank Liston fourth so that in the 13 schools in the sectional mat meet Sandburg wound up in sixth place with 20 points. Lincoln-Way scored a total of 11 points.

Make Ceremonial Masks
By Lynda Nelson - Grade 7
The seventh grades at the Tinley Park school are making African ceremonial masks under the direction of Mrs. M. Zahler. The masks are being made of paper mache. Some of the boys and girls are going to decorate the masks with meat bones and many other things from home. After the rooms get thru making the masks, both seventh graders will compare the masks, and see which room has the fiercest looking.

Art Projects
By Ricky Kark - Grade 6
The two sixth grades of the Tinley Park public school are going to make mobiles. They are going to make them of tinfoil. If the student's hobby is fishing, then maybe the student may make a fish, a fisherman, a bait bucket, a fishing rod, and a tree stump. If a student's hobby is roller skating, he will maybe make a roller skater, a roller skating ticket, music notes, a roller skating case, and a roller skate.

First prize was won by Frances Swisher, 8th grade. Susan Marbach, Lynda Nelson, Twalla Johnson, and John Punis, 7th graders, Donald Titus, 6th grade, and Ellen Moe Monagle and David Watkins, 5th graders were given honorable mentions.

ALPINE

Mrs. E. Mrosek
Fieldbrook 9-2841

Ernest Show of 104 Ave. has been a patient in Silver Cross hospital, Joliet, since Feb. 10. A definite diagnosis of his condition has not been made. Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Schumacker and son, Dennis, recently of Chicago, are residing with her mother, Mrs. Show, because of her father's illness.

Maue school directors held a regular monthly meeting at the school Friday evening.

Because of hazardous driving conditions, classes were not held at Maue, Friday.

An interesting talk, "Let's Take Fatigue out of Everyday Living," was presented by Mrs. Arden Summerville and Mrs. Eric Enblom at the meeting of the Orland unit of Cook County Home Bureau held in the George Flondors home in Orland, Friday evening. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Oscar Mack and Mrs. John Lohmann, both of Alpine. Other members present were: Mrs. Sigmund Bukowski, Home Bureau publicity reporter for the Alpine district; Mrs. Frank Buck, Mrs. F. R. Beck, Mrs. Nick Caccis, Mrs. Enblom, Mrs. E. C. Sayers, Miss Mary Minter, Miss Clara Myrick. Members were particularly happy to welcome a former member, Mrs. Roy Loebe, back into the group.

The Maue PTA met in the school, Feb. 8. A Founder's day program was enjoyed. Betty Jean Stellwagen and Kay Maue gave a skit and Mrs. Raymond Knieriem read the history of the PTA. The cake walk, which followed, provided a lot of entertainment. Mrs. Knieriem, who won three cakes, very generously insisted on that others might share.

Cub Scouts, den 5 of pack 218, met Thursday afternoon in the John Cruise home. Members continued work on an underwater scene which is their latest project. They cut out pictures of fish and divers and also make clay models. The combined work of the boys will be mounted in a cardboard box which will be exhibited at the next pack meeting. Any items left over will be put in a scrap book which will also be exhibited. There was also a discussion of each boy keeping a log book. It was decided that get well cards should be sent to Timothy Walker, Arthur and Jimmy Walker's cousin, who is a patient in the Mercy hospital, Chicago.

The Alpine Girl's Agriculture and Home Economics 4-H club met Feb. 15 in the Maue school with 29 members present. The meeting was called to order by the new president, Sandar Felsch. Reports were given. It was decided to get 4-H gate signs for those who want them. Those who are interested should contact Sharon Lauffer for details.

4-H camping date for Cook county is June 18-22 at Camp Shaw-waw-nas-see. Cost $13.50. Members were urged to get reservation in early.

The rally was announced for March 6 at Homewood village hall, Homewood. Members were urged to start planning for Share-The Fun, to be held in Homewood on May 8.

Carla Mrosek gave a talk on "Uses of Feed Bags." Shirley Klepser gave a demonstration on "Coloring on Transfers."

Kay Maue, Sandra Felsch and Betty Jean Stellwagen attended demonstration school. Kay explained the proper procedure for giving a demonstration. Betty Jean gave demonstration by making a batch of chocolate cookies and Sandar explained how to rate a demonstration.

Mrs. Stellwagen gave a report on the sewing school. Home Ec books were distributed. Nancy Klepser and Norma Albert provided a recreation. Refreshments were served by Carol Turay, Nora Holtz and Charmain Bartar.

Tinley Gets $2,195 From Sales Tax for November Business

Retail sales in Tinley Park in November netted the village $2,195, according to figures released by State Treasurer Warren Wright.

This sum is almost $200 greater than the amount paid to Tinley for October, the first month the half-cent sales tax had been in force in the community.

Under state law municipalities can impose a half-cent sales tax which is collected by the state and later turned over to the communities. The state receives a fee for the collection and distribution of the money. But the money that comes to the cities is source of revenue they never had before and most municipalities are in urgent need of it.

Orland Park enacted an ordinance providing for the half-cent sales tax there but it had not become effective in November. Orland will get its first check for December—probably around March 1.

Lockport received $3,323 for November; Park Forest, $6,047; Chicago Heights, $20,392; Harvey, $14,429; Mokena, $786; Crete, $781 and Joliet, $46,041 to name a few.

A total of 585 Illinois communities received sales tax checks for November. As of Jan. 16 there were 679 communities which had adopted sales tax ordinances.

Parochial Libraries Played Part in Early Colonial Culture

By Ralph H. Willis

Between 1693 and 1730 the Rev. Thomas Bray, founder of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith in Foreign Parts, established 39 parochial libraries; and in 1731 Benjamin Franklin established the first American subscription library, known as the Library Company of Philadelphia. New Hampshire set up a colonial library in 1770; New Jersey established a state library in 1796; and the Library of Congress was established in 1800. (This great institution will be covered in a separate article at a later date.) The earliest known American libraries to be maintained by taxation were the municipal libraries at Salisbury, Conn., and Peterborough, N. H., around 1803. The latter has been maintained by public taxation since 1833.

The libraries in ancient Greece were started by Pisistratus in the 6th Century and were added to by the Athenian poets and writers themselves. The Euripides, Plato, Polykrates, Euclid, Socrates, Nicocrates and Aristotle were book collectors, and the last "being the first to make a collection of books and to teach the kings of Egypt the art of arranging a library." Plato termed Aristotle's residence the "house of the reader." Euripides had a slave, a skilled scribe, who copied the most noteworthy works for the collection of his master. Another large and prominent collection was that of Clearchus, the tyrant of Heraclea. The library at Alexandria, for many centuries the literary center of the world, was founded by Ptolemy Soter with the assistance of the rhetorician Demetrius of Phaleros. (Later a separate article on the great and spread of knowledge.)

In Rome—the ancient libraries were made up exclusively and for many centuries, of works written in Greek. Cicero was a great collector of books and he is said to have stated that a country home could not be complete without a library. Seneca bemoaned the fashion of the time that placed the library the least needed of the necessities. Despite this, there were many notable private collections at the time.

Caesar projected a library for Rome and charged Varrus with the task of gathering both Greek and Latin works. The project was never completed however and Pollius later had the honor of establishing the first public library, which he placed on Aventine Hill.

Augustus erected a library on the Palatine and another in the Portico of Octavia. Tiberius, Vespasian and Domitian also formed libraries. The finest of the Roman libraries was the Ulpian, founded by Trajan and located in the Forum and later at the Baths at Diocletian. These fine examples were copied by many other public spirited persons and the Fourth century there are said to have been established 29 public libraries in Rome and numerous others outside the city, notably the ones at Tibur, Como and Milan.

The march of libraries thru the centuries was aided by emperors, men of wealth, the many monastic orders, churches and colleges, and it is due to these benefactors that we today have such a wealth of literature to enjoy.

Dun & Bradstreet Gets Reports on 39 Firms at New Lenox and 25 Businesses in Mokena

Each January business concerns in all parts of the United States receive from Dun & Bradstreet requests for their annual financial statements. This year the number of requests going out nationwide will approximate three million, with over 200 going to Will county businesses.

The extent of business activity in Will county is reflected in statistics just released by the credit reporting firm. E. V. Reichstetter, district manager in Chicago which covers this area, says that this year there will be more requests for financial statements made of business concerns in Will county than ever before.

The Will County section of the current issue of the Dun & Bradstreet reference book contains listing of 2028 local names comprising manufacturers, retailers and wholesalers. It does not include some of the service and "professional" businesses, such as barber and beauty shops, real estate and stock brokers. Thus the figures for business in Will county would actually be higher than the 2028 quoted above.

The number of listed businesses in the 10 largest communities in Will county are as follows:

Joliet, 1352; Lockport, 133; Wilmington, 101; Plainfield, 75; Crete, 58; Peotone, 57; Beecher, 43; New Lenox, 39; Braidwood, 28; Mokena, 25.

Better than 95 per cent of all commercial transactions in the United States are made on credit terms and the buyer and the seller are brought together by means of credit information.

When the owner of a business or his accountant returns his financial statement to Dun & Bradstreet, the owner has taken the first step in establishing his responsibility as a seeker of credit.

The statement becomes a part of the credit report on his business along with a financial analysis, a description of what the business does, and a record of how it pays its bills.

On the basis of the information in the report, a rating is assigned and the businessman is listed in the reference book. This makes it possible for his suppliers and insurance underwriters, who use the book, to look him up and in this way he is assisted in getting his goods and insurance.

In other words, should a manufacturer or wholesaler receive an order for merchandise from a merchant in Mokena or New Lenox, the listing and the rating of the merchant can be checked in the reference book. And it makes no difference where the seller is located. The listing of the Will county businessman appears in every issue of the reference book in the United States.

A reference book listing contains the name of the business and the rating. The rating consists of two symbols. The first, a letter of the alphabet, indicates financial strength or capital. It is the difference between what the business owes and what it owns. The second symbol, a numeral, reflects a composite of financial stability and payment record.

H. Adele Cooper, Orland Park, Recounts Experiences in Europe

The time is here again for tours and vacation which brings to mind talking with Mrs. H. Adele Cooper, Orland Park, who was telling of the wonderful tour she made last year with the General Federation of the Woman's club. This European trip was made possible as a Christmas and birthday gift from her sons Merrill and Floyd Cooper.

Mrs. Cooper left Chicago airport Sunday, May 29 and flew to New York where she joined 350 other women who were going on this tour. The national convention of Women's club, meeting in Philadelphia, recessed May 27 to reconvene in Geneva, Switzerland, May 31, the first international convention of the women's clubs.

Leaving by planes Sunday at 6 p.m. for the first lap to New Foundland to refuel, from where they went to Brussels, Belgium, where the people there treated the travelers to orange juice and cookies. With an hour they again entered their planes for Geneva, which was a delightful trip. The tour had been planned for 50 persons and 350 signed up. Since planes had a capacity of 57, it took several days, with the help of other airlines, to get the travelers to their destination.

At Geneva, buses took the group to many wonderful places, finally settling for a short time at the Mountain House, 4,000 feet in the Alps which presents never-to-be forgotten views. This is said to be world's center of moral rearmament, striving for unity, starting with oneself, compelling enough to bridge every barrier. Quoting from a speaker there, "It is the statesmanship, it is a new light of hope for Asia and Africa. Moral re-armament is doing for Africa and many other countries what Abraham Lincoln did for the United States; it is binding up the nations' wounds and setting the people free."

The group next visited the Palais Des Nations, where the first International General Federation of Women's clubs convention was in session. There were many wonderful speakers who inspired those present with their sincerity to overcome the tragedy wrought by wars and their desire to correct it and help all unfortunate people of the world.

At Geneva the travelers visited many beautiful buildings and rooms and marveled at the beautiful examples of architecture.

A not so rosy view was presented at the sessions of the convention, sad conditions existing from the lack of homes, lack of food, diseases, shameful conditions at many camps and many wooden barracks, children born and reared in barracks, who wonders what people are like who live in houses. Many problems were presented including labor problems of men and women; divorces now more prevalent since women leave the homes for work; children in homes where parents are absent by reason of employment; women's rights; effects of war on family relations and neurotic diseases caused by war. All were thought-provoking subjects and ideas and the travelers left the convention with sober emotions and desire to help.

After the convention a boat trip on Lake Geneva and a concert was a highlight.

The group continued on their tour using 11 buses and each person having a roommate. Mrs. Cotton of New Hampshire, wife of Senator Cotton was Mrs. Cooper's roommate. Leaving Geneva, the drive was breathtaking down thru the beautiful mountains, with villages, castles, lakes, and inspecting two ancient bridges with a series of paintings hung on their beams.

The next day's journeys took them to Lichenstein, a separate country between Switzerland and Austria, and on to Oberammergau where the houses have paintings on the outside. They visited the world famous cathedral at Tyrol, Austria which has a golden roof and saw where the 1960 Olympic games will be held. Here are 10 story skyscrapers and saw buildings that were bombed during the war.

The trip down the Brenner pass was interesting, and it took them to Venice where they went sight-seeing by gondola. Their next stop was a Florence, Italy, then to Rome where they saw so many interesting and historical buildings and places, a few of which are: Roman wall built at the end of the third century; Vatican City, museum and galleries, St. Peter's church, U.S. Embassy and Consulate buildings. The Pope granted a special audience to the group and after chatting a while he walked back and forth in an opening in the crowd and shook hands and blessed articles members had purchased. He looked very well, Mrs. Cooper stated and had to climb 236 steps to reach the room of this audience and of course the same number of steps in returning.

Space for time does not allow for us to go in detail and tell about the many places nor the many beautiful buildings, scenery, historical places and articles, but to mention a few.

Mt. Vesuvius, the Bay of Naples, the Amalfi drive, considered one of the world's most beautiful drives; the many beautiful hotels and restaurants and the grand dinner music and wonderful food. Mrs. Cooper especially observed an oxen pulling a reaper cutting rye as it was such a contrast to our highly mechanized farm work in this country.

Leaving the beautiful cities of Italy they next went to France, where at Nice and official reception was organized, the group was greeted by the mayor and served tea and cookies. They saw in many bombed places, stopped at Venice and Grasse, the perfume industry center where three-fourths of the people work with flowers. The trip to Monaco, smallest independent state in Europe, has more interest now with that country being prominent in the news at this time. Mrs. Cooper stated she was disappointed in Monte Carlo as she expected to see it more lush.

At Paris, among the great attractions was the Arc de Triumphe, Eiffel tower, Napoleon's Biddle and the Woman's Home tomb and his apartments. At Fontainebleu the four members were guests of Mrs. Margaret T. Companion. They were served a sumptuous luncheon under a large white and green striped tent on the Biddle lawn, and where they met the Duchess of Windsor, Mrs. Biddle's (intimate friend) attended the Lord Mayor's reception given for them and to the opera in the evening.

When arriving at SHAPE (Supreme Headquarters Allied Powers in Europe), a Stoch colonel addressed them saying: "There is only an hour's flight to the Iron curtain and all the world will be there if they keep on trying. In 1949 twelve countries formed NATO, now there are 15 with 450 million people. The French General DeBris thru a translator stated "Russia can do a tremendous amount of harm now. We care for 4000 miles of air power. Russia has 20,000 aircraft. The West is superior in navy and Russia has no air craft carriers, but are developing them; Russia is superior in submarines; we should develop and increase our military efforts as Russia is not relaxing." The next speaker, Supreme Gen. Gruenther said: "We still are not strong enough. Progress is fantastic, but not enough—will be able to defend in three or four years hence—must get German contribution—must have support opinion of 400 million people. Russia wants abolishment of atomic weapons,—it kills woman and children. We will match Soviet's human potential—we are against war, but not against weapons."

Leaving Paris, June 26, they drove to Brussels and after touring that city, which made an impression on the group because of its cleanliness, they arrived at Ostend the next day at noon which was the climax of this 5000-mile bus drive during which time each bus had the same driver, courier, companions, with not one mishap and roads had 'S' and hairpin curves. The weather was ideal, affording a better view of the magnificent scenery.

They crossed the English channel at Ostend, Belgium to Dover England. The steamer was packed with 1500 on board. Mrs. Cooper said they had dinner on the boat and the crossing was smooth. Arrived at Dover where after a rush to check passports they took a special train to London at 8:15 p.m. with no supper, arriving there 11:15. A bus job too again got buses or taxis, baggage sorted and arrived at hotels 1:30 a.m. where they had some sandwiches. Here the group parted, some taking extended tours to other countries.

Mrs. Cooper went on a tour of London June 30 where she saw many historical places and many bombed sections. She stated Peticoat Lane was similar to our Maxwell st., in Chicago. As Mrs. Cooper wanted to see her father's cousins, John, Lily and Laura, left in Belfast, Ireland, she boarded a large new American Jet plane at 5:25 p.m. making 300 miles an hour at an altitude 18,500 and made the trip across the Irish sea to Belfast in one and one-half hours. The visit was far too short with her cousins, whose house was damaged in the war. At night during the war, they would go to the hills and return home in the daytime. If two unexploded mines had exploded the cousins would have been killed. There was the first encounter with bad weather.

Returning to London where the tour representative met her and escorted her to the hotel he took her the next morning to the world's largest station, Waterloo, from where Mrs. Cooper left for Southampton. There she boarded the world's fastest steamship, United States and left, in her words, "for America, the best place in the world." The steamer she stated was a village in itself, has its own theatre seating 350—large library, store, grand piano various other rooms food, excellent and plenty of it—own press on board which publishes daily paper—church services Sunday and many forms of entertainment. She shared a large comfortable outside cabin with girls from Austria, one from France and a lady from Virginia. The steamer made one stop, at LaHarve, but passengers were not allowed to leave the boat.

Arrived at New York, July 5 at 8 a.m. in terrific heat, had to wait a long time for baggage inspection and met her friend, Lecie from Long Island. Finally the two got a taxi to take them to Lecie's home. The next day they drove to Lecie's summer home at East Hampton, L. I. It was great relief to get away from the heat. July they drove to the end of Long Island, Montauk Point and to Rockyville center.

July 8 Mrs. Cooper boarded an airplane at 2 p.m. on her way home to Orland Park which proved to be quite an experience. A short time after taking off came the announcement over the loud speaker: "There are scattered showers over Wilkes Barre to Bradford, Pa.; now going across Lake Erie to Canada, altitude 24,000, 40 miles north of Erie, fasten belts." About 45 minutes later, another announcement, "Detouring to stay in clear and smooth air and we have Ontario, Canada on one side and Detroit, Mich., on the other." Next announcement: "Passed Toledo and Ft. Wayne about 60 miles southeast of Chicago about over Kokomo, Ind. As there is a tornado report we are detouring." About 20 minutes late after a smooth trip, arrived at 5:45 p.m. in Chicago. The plane's regular course is straight across Pa. to Youngstown, Cleveland and Chicago. Mrs. Cooper states she was most fortunate in all her 15,000 miles of traveling, on land, sea and air, with no accidents and good weather.

Law On The Farm

By Norm Kranz

This year thousands of farmers and hundreds of drainage districts are subject to a new law on drainage. A committee of drainage attorneys worked several years to weave into one over-all code the many drainage laws passed since 1890.

In order to make the new drainage law readily available to farmers and drainage commissioners, a circular has been prepared at the U. of I. college of agriculture, Urbana. The circular explains the drainage law so that it can be understood and used; also the circular points out drainage situations that have legal implications requiring legal aid. Those who have need for such information can order Circular 751 from the college or pick up a copy at the farm adviser's office. There is no charge for it.

A few of the highlights in the drainage code can be briefly stated:

1. The rules of natural drainage are brought together in a general provision: "Land may be drained in the general course of natural drainage by either open or covered drains." This does not change basic rules used in the past.

2. An owner may extend his drains across the lands of others when necessary to secure an outlet, and may start an action in the county court to gain this right.

3. Mutual drains are given a new status with authority in the landowners to enter the lands of others to repair mutual drains.

4. There are now five types of drainage districts rather than twelve, with uniform operating procedures which apply to all of them. Farm drainage, mutual, outlet, user and subdistricts are the types of districts under the new code.

5. All districts are now under the supervision of county courts with county officials acting as clerk and treasurer.

6. Landowners may use the water in the ditch, fish, trap in it, cross it, move implements along its banks and pasture livestock on the ditch right of ways so long as they do not injure the ditch or break down its banks.

7. The special assessment procedure is similar to the old law—based on benefits to the land. All tax levies must be court approved.

Soviet authorities recently proclaimed Russia the second largest coal producer in the world with 1955 tonnage exceeding 390,000,000 tons and said that by 1960 tonnage would be up to 500,000,000.

Consolidated Edison Co. of New York, serving America's largest metropolis, and Detroit Edison Co., which serves the nation's automobile capital, Detroit, each use nearly 5,000,000 tons of coal a year to produce electric power.

Why Bill won't get much of a dinner tonight—

Let an ELECTRIC Dryer do the work on washdays—

Electric heat's the cleanest, fastest, dryest heat there is... and electric dryers cost less!

Her automatic washer is wonderful, Bill. But it won't hang up heavy wet wash.

With an automatic electric dryer all she has to do is put in a load, and set the controls. It's that easy. And clothes come out soft and fluffy, sweet and clean. Nothing touches the clothes but pure, clean, electrically heated air.

Electric dryers are fast, too, because electric heat is the dryest there is. Your Mrs.

won't have to iron as many things, either. And controls are so accurate even miracle fabrics are perfectly safe.

You can buy her an electric dryer for less than $2 a week. Installation is little in any home with good wiring. Honest, it won't break you!

ELECTRIC DRYERS COST LESS—no costly outside venting necessary. Fully automatic, no igniting devices needed.
